

SUMMARY OF NEW CONCLUSIONS OF THE DISSERTATION

Doctoral candidate: Tran Phi Cong

Dissertation title: Vietnamese antiquities of the Tran - Le period (from the 13th to 18th century) in Ha Tinh.

Major: Cultural Studies

Code: 9229040

Scientific supervisor: Prof. Dr. Nguyen Chi Ben

Institution: Vietnam National Institute of Culture and Arts Studies

New conclusions of the dissertation

The research results of the thesis have clarified the contents related to Vietnamese antiquities the Tran – Le period (from the 13th to the 18th century) in Ha Tinh from a cultural perspective.

- The thesis has highlighted the diversity and richness of Vietnamese antiquities of the Tran - Le period discovered and collected in Ha Tinh through statistics, comparisons and classifications according to materials, ages and function, thereby providing a basis for discussing the characteristics, values and unique features of antiquities of the period.

- The thesis clearly shows the characteristics of Vietnamese antiquities of the Tran - Le period ((from the 13th to the 18th century) in Ha Tinh such as reflecting trade, tradition of studiousness, socio – political stability, famous people and clans; religious beliefs; historical, cultural, scientific, aesthtic and economic values of antiquities of this period.

- The thesis has pointed out the unique features of the antiquities of some neighboring provinces and placed them in the overall Vietnamese antiques of the Tran - Le period in Vietnam

- The research results are the basis for building a life of enjoying antiquities, contributing to creating new cultural values and are a source of original documents serving historical and geographical research and editing antiques at museums and relics of Ha Tinh.

Scientific Supervisor

Doctoral Candidate

Prof. Dr. Nguyen Chi Ben

Tran Phi Cong